Pastor, Tell Us What You Really Think.?

This month's edition of the Lutheran Witness is worth your time to read. This letter from LCMS President Harrison introduces the issue on worship. You can find more of the issue here : <https://witness.lcms.org/2024/lutheran-witness-january-2024/>

Filled to Overflowing

Martin Luther loved to use the example of a “sack” to preach the Gospel. On Luke 12:34, “Fear not, little flock, for it is your Father’s good pleasure to give you the kingdom,” he preached: “He wills to give you the kingdom,’ He says, ‘so don’t look to your own merit.’ Only hold open the sack and take what He gives very happily to you” (Luther’s Works, Weimar Ed., vol. 32, p. 87).

In Matthew 9:2, Jesus heals a paralytic: “And behold, some people brought to him a paralytic, lying on a bed. And, when Jesus saw their faith, He said to the paralytic, “Take heart, my son; your sins are forgiven.”” Luther commented: “These are words that have to do with the Gospel. Thus it is not Moses, the policeman, or legislator who is spoken of, nor is anything imposed upon the paralytic to do, nor any law. He receives only consolation. Jesus desires only to give him and would merely have him hold the sack and let it be done” (ibid. vol. 34, p. 330).

On John 3:16, “For God so loved the world, that he gave his only son, that whoever believes in him should not perish,” Luther again preached: “Now in what way do I take what's offered? What's in the bag in which the treasure is placed? Faith! Namely that which believes and holds the hands and the sack open. You can't merit it by a monastic life. Your works don't belong here. Only see that you let it be given to you. Just hold your mouth open and do nothing. Just hold still and let me shovel it in” (ibid. vol. 37, p.413).

Faith is the “sack” that receives and holds the gift. The gift of forgiveness and life and salvation given can't but move the recipient to give in return. The most important gift the Christian gives is love to his neighbor. “God doesn't need your works,” Luther fumed about the wrong trajectory of worship in medieval [Roman] Catholicism. It was all wrong because it was all about doing things to earn merit, earning points with God for a shorter time in purgatory. “God doesn’t need your works. Your neighbor does.” The Reformation changed the trajectory of the church’s worship dramatically from Law to Gospel.

Our services today open with the pastor making the sign of the cross, recalling your baptism, and saying, “In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” It’s Gospel. Where God’s name is, there is life and salvation. That name is on you since you Baptism. Faith is the sack that receives the gift and faith says: “Amen. Truth. It shall be so!”

In the confession of sins, we acknowledge our depravity in thought, word, and deed. “Dear God, I’ve got an empty sack!” And “in the stead and by the command of our Lord Jesus Christ,” the pastor says in place of Jesus Himself and His words (John 20), “I forgive you all your sins in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” In the sack it goes. Amen. I believe it. It’s in the bag.

The lessons from the lectionary provide the fulsome teaching of the whole Bible so the pastor isn’t just gassing on about his favorite topics. We hear the Law (condemning our sins) and the Gospel (forgiving our sins). And this condemnation and forgiveness actually happen as the Word of God hits us, “living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword” (Heb. 4:12). The gift of forgiveness happens in the church, and wherever the Word strikes.

The pastor proclaims God’s Law and Gospel as he delivers the Word of God based upon the texts. Make no mistake, for the New Testament as for Luther and Lutherans, the sermon is not mere information for a person to contemplate or decide upon. It’s the Gospel, the “power of God for salvation” (Rom. 1:16). A sermon that does not clearly proclaim, “Your sins are forgiven for the sake of the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus,” is not Lutheran. In fact, it’s not Christian. Pastors exist to deliver the Goods right into the sack of faith.

We hear the Words of Institution for the Supper: “This is my body given for you.” “This is my blood, shed for you, for the forgiveness of sins.” Then, in a way that only intensifies the certainty of the gift of forgiveness, the body and blood of Jesus are placed in your mouth for forgiveness. And you say, Amen. Got it in the bag!”

All the way through the service, the Word of God in the liturgy and in the hymns strikes and does what it says, now cajoling, then condemning, then forgiving, now consoling. It continues all the way to the end of the service when you hear the Gospel-laden words of the one Triune God: “The Lord bless you and keep you. The Lord make His face to shine upon you and be gracious to you. The Lord lift up His countenance upon you and give you peace.” “For [Jesus] Himself is our peace, who has made us both one and has broken down in the flesh the dividing wall of hostility” (Eph. 2:14).

And we say: “Amen, Amen, Amen to that. It’s in the bag. Gift received, now ready to be doled out to my spouse, my children, my neighbors, my co-workers, and the needy.”

Once a Christian recognizes the Gospel and the Gospel delivered, he or she will never look at church the same way again.

- Pastor Matt Harrison

STEWARDSHIP

Caring for My Neighbor

If any of the Ten Commandments might tempt us to think that keeping the Law is easy, it would be the Fifth Commandment. After all, how hard is it to get through life without murdering somebody? The vast majority of people can handle that!

But Jesus famously blows up this notion by pointing out that the command, “you shall not murder,” goes much deeper — down to the heart.

You have heard that it was said to those of old, “You shall not murder; and whoever murders will be liable to judgment.” But I say to you that everyone who is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment; whoever insults his brother will be liable to the council; and whoever says, “You fool!” will be liable to the hell of fire. (Matt. 5:21–22)

Hatred and disdain come from the same sort of crookedness of heart as murder. With both murder and hatred, you look down on another person and think them of little worth.

In the Small Catechism, Luther also points out that every “do not” in the commandments also includes a “do this.” “We should fear and love God so that we do not hurt or harm our neighbor in his body but help and support him in every physical need” (SC, Fifth Commandment, emphasis added).

We are not called merely to avoid evil; we must also do positive good.

So when Jesus drew near to us and became our neighbor by taking up our humanity, He came not only to avoid harming us, but He came to positively help us, bless us and serve us.

We are now called to show the love to our neighbors that Christ showed to us. Your neighbor is yet another gift that God has given you that requires your stewardship. We are called to show mercy, to be kind, to love and serve our neighbor. One aspect of this stewardship is financial: our neighbors need us to support the church’s work so that they can hear the Gospel and come to faith. Our neighbors need the church’s alms and mercy work. Our neighbors need our faithful service in all we do in the name of Christ.

The collection for LWR was a success. This year the ingathering took place on Saturday November 4, 2023. We collected at two different sites, St. John Lutheran — Rutersville and Zion Lutheran — Zionsville, and then delivered those items to Epiphany Lutheran Church in Houston. From there, the containers were trucked to New Windsor, Maryland.

Two U-Haul trucks were used this year to accommodate the abundant collections. There were a total of 15 churches that brought donations to Rutersville. A total of 18 churches donated to Zionsville. A special thank you goes out to the volunteers that helped unload the vehicles as they arrived and then pack the U-Haul trucks.

The monetary donations that were given helped with the expenses of the trucks and gasoline. The excess amount was donated to LWR to assist them with their costs. A special thanks goes to Chevron-La Grange which gave us a discount on the truck rentals again this year.

Below is the breakdown of the contributions including the total collected and shipped from Houston.

	QUILTS	BLANKETS	SCHOOL KITS	PERSONAL CARE KITS	BABY CARE KITS	FABRIC KITS
RUTERSVILLE	607	0	524	660	8	15

MEN'S CLUB PIT STOP

Next Meeting: Monday, February 5, 6:00 PM at BBQ Pits

In case of bad weather, please meet in the Blue House.

Meeting Minutes
January 8, 2024

Opening:

The meeting was called to order by President Donald Roensch at 6:00 pm with eleven members in attendance. Pastor Kaspar opened with a devotion/prayer.

Minutes:

Minutes from the November 6, 2023 meeting were read and approved.

Treasures Report:

Randy Albers presented the Treasurer's report. Balance as of 12/31/2023 was $21,253.51. Total income for December was $157.45 and total expenses were $621.48. Motion to accept the Treasurer's Report as read was made by Jason Lehmann and second by Daniel Fischer. Motion passed.

Old Business:

The congregational Christmas party was held on Sunday December 3, 2023. The meal turned out great, however the attendance was less than last year. A thank you was given to Daniel Fischer for being the liaison for the Men's Club and the Mary Martha Guild.

Liners were used in the roasters for the turkey and dressing. The liners worked well for the dressing but not for the turkey. The liners still stuck to the sides of the roaster. A suggestion was made to try and see if we can get silicone liners for the turkeys.

New Business:

Donald Roensch talked about the dinners we usually have each year. This is the list:

Preschool – Pork Steak or Bake Potato. Preschool has not contacted Men's Club about this year.

Church Picnic in May

Men's Club BBQ Chicken & Sausage in September.

Miscellaneous:

Team 4 was responsible for the meal served after the meeting. Special thank you to Randy Albers for preparing the meal. Donald Roensch stated in the event none of the other team members are available to help, please call on other club members.

Next scheduled meeting is set for Monday February 5th at 6:00 pm.

Adjournment:

Motion was made by Aaron Muniz and seconded by Jason Lehmann to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried. The meeting adjourned with the Lord's Prayer.

Respectfully submitted.
